Young Sub. (to coquette)—If you don't answer me one way or the other—yes or no—I'll hang myself at your garden gate.
Coquette—You mustn't do that. Father doesn't like young men hanging about the place!

Society

bert E. Thomas, and Mr. A. Bryant Reavis took place last evening at 8 o'clock at the church, Rev. Dr. James Sherwood, pastor of the church, officiating.
Quantities of white hydrangeas against a background of palms and trailing vines formed the setting for the ceremony.
The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of bridal satin and charmingly lace, trimmed with roses of pearls.
Her tulle veil, which was held with a coronet of orange blossoms, fell to the end of her long court train.
A shower bouquet of bride roses and lilies of the valley was carried.
The bride's bouquet, the maid of honor, wore a lovely gown of green silk net over green tulle, made very bouffant, with the drapery on the V-necked bodice caught in the front with a crystal butterfly.
She carried a bouquet of sunburst roses and lilies of the valley. A black tulle picture hat completed her costume.
The bridesmaids, Miss Catherine Cowell, Miss Olive Fitz Gerald, Miss Alice Easterling, Miss Marie Humphreys, Miss Anna McKnight and Miss Gertrude Hastings, made a picturesque group in their gowns of white net over green tulle, with ruffles on the skirts edged with green tulle and caught up with sprays of daisies.
They carried bouquets of sunburst roses and maidenhair fern and wore hats of white tulle trimmed with ruffles of tulle.
Little Miss Ella Norris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Norris, was the flower girl, and she wore a dress of dress, with a wreath of daisies in her hair and carried a basket of daisies.
Mr. George Poole was the best man, Mr. Reavis and the ushers were Mr. Harry Elkins, Mr. Ross Johnson, Mr. Ralph Little, Mr. Burton Lowe, Mr. Foster and Mr. Milburn.
Twenty members of the Chi Omega Sorority, of which the bride is a member, formed an aisle with daisy arches through which the wedding party passed to the altar.
A reception followed at the bride's home, when the newly married couple were assisted in receiving by Mrs. Thomas, the bride's mother, who wore a gown of lavender and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley.
Mr. and Mrs. Bryant of Maryland, uncle and aunt of the bridegroom, were among the guests present at the wedding.
Mr. and Mrs. Reavis left later for their wedding trip, the latter wearing a navy blue and white tulle suit with a black picture hat.
They will be at home at 1309 Delafield street, this city, after September 1.
